

LORRAINE DIAS HERBON

7108 West Arbor Trace Drive, Apt. 502
Knoxville, TN 37909
916-539-5404
lherbon@vols.utk.edu

EDUCATION

University of Tennessee, Knoxville Present
Ph.D. Candidate in History

Major Fields of Research and Coursework: American history, nineteenth-century history, the life of Jessie Benton Fremont

California State University, Sacramento May, 2014
Master of Arts in History

Major Fields of Research and Coursework: American history, Civil War history and memory, California history

Exam Subjects: Major Field – Civil War and Reconstruction, Civil War Memory, Long Civil Rights movement; Minor Field – Andrew Jackson and the Second Bank of the United States

Advisors: Dr. Chloe Burke (major field); Dr. Christopher Castaneda (minor field)

California State University, Sacramento May, 2011
Bachelor of Arts in History (summa cum laude)

ACADEMIC EMPLOYMENT

University of Tennessee, Knoxville August 2015 to present
Graduate Teaching Assistant

History 221, Dr. Luke Harlow (Fall, 2015)
History 241, Dr. Jay Rubenstein (Fall, 2016)
History 220, Dr. Torre Olsson (Spring, 2017)

Graduate Research Assistant

Knoxville College Oral History Project, Dr. Brandon Winford (Spring, 2016)
Andrew Jackson Papers, Dr. Daniel Feller (Summer, 2017)
McClung Museum of Natural and Cultural History, Lindsey Gaharvi (Fall, 2017)

PUBLICATIONS

Herbon, Lorraine Dias. Daisy's Legacy: A Tale of Sacramento in the Progressive Era.
Sacramento: Sacramento County Historical Society, 2012.

Herbon, Lorraine Dias. "Perpetuating the Myth: The Lost Cause in the Films of the 1930s." Clio History Journal 24, 2014.

Herbon, Lorraine Dias. "Vera Brittain: A Woman's Experience During the Great War." Clio History Journal 23, 2013.

Herbon, Lorraine Dias. "Daisy's Story: A Tale of Sacramento in the Progressive Era." Clio History Journal 21, 2011.

PRESENTATIONS

"Perpetuating the Myth: The Lost Cause in the Films of the 1930s." 47th Annual Conference of the Western Association of Women Historians, May 2015 (paper accepted for presentation)

"Perpetuating the Myth: The Lost Cause in the Films of the 1930s." Phi Alpha Theta Regional Conference, April 2014. First place, graduate student papers.

"Perpetuating the Myth: The Lost Cause in the Films of the 1930s." Sixteenth Annual Graduate Symposium, California State University, Fresno, March, 2014.

"Daisy's Legacy: A Tale of Sacramento in the Progressive Era." Presentation to the members of the Sacramento County Historical Society, November, 2012.

"Daisy's Legacy: A Tale of Sacramento in the Progressive Era." Presentation to the members of the South Side Improvement Club, Sacramento, June 2011 and December 2012.

HONORS

Phi Alpha Theta: National History Honor Society, Rho-Xi Chapter
2012-2014

PROFESSIONAL ACTIVITIES

Clio History Journal

California State University, Sacramento

Secretary Academic Year 2013-2014

Associate Editor, Clio History Journal, Volume 24 2013-2014

Associate Editor, Clio History Journal, Volume 23 2012-2013

Member, Phi Alpha Theta: National History Honor Society, Rho-Xi Chapter

Chapter Secretary Academic Year 2013-2014

Member, American Historical Association 2014

Member, Western Association of Women Historians 2014

LANGUAGES

German, Basic Reading and Speaking Competency