

Amanda Klug

Department of History, The University of Tennessee
915 Volunteer Blvd, 6th Floor Dunford Hall, Knoxville, TN 37996
aklug@vols.utk.edu – (414) 719-0048

Education

The University of Tennessee, Knoxville, TN

Ph.D. Candidate, History, August 2019—

Dissertation: “Memories of the United States Constitutional Convention, 1787-1861”

Examination Fields: U.S. Pre-1877, U.S. Post-1877, U.S. Political History, 1787-1980 (April 2022)

MA, History, December 2021

Thesis: “Memory of the Constitutional Convention and the Madison Papers”

(Directed by Dr. Michael E. Woods)

Reading Proficiency: French

Hillsdale College, Hillsdale, MI

BA, History, summa cum laude, (Departmental Honors), May 2019

Minors: Politics, French

Teaching and Research

Graduate Teaching Assistant, The University of Tennessee

HIEU 241: Development of Western Civilization to 1715, Dr. Jacob Latham, Spring 2023

Lecture: “Political Culture of the Roman Republic”

HIOUS 221: United States History to 1865, Dr. Brooke Bauer, Fall 2022

Lecture: “A New Republic: The Articles of Confederation and the Constitution”

HIOUS 222: United States History since 1865, Dr. Tore Olsson, Spring 2020

HIST 255: Introduction to Early Latin America, Dr. Chad Black, Fall 2019

Homeschool Class Teacher, August 2022—

Elementary Survey of United States Political History, 1776 to 1980

Graduate Research Assistant, The University of Tennessee

Dr. Susan Lawrence (Department Head), August 2023—

Dr. Michael E. Woods, May – August 2022

Dr. Ernest Freeberg, Academic Year, 2020-2021 and 2021-2022

Dr. Luke Harlow, May 2020 – August 2021

Conferences

Panel Organizer and Panelist, Society for United States Intellectual History 2021 Conference

Panel: “Memory, Secrecy, and Political Culture in the 19th-Century United States”

Presentation: “Remembering the Constitutional Convention: The Madison Papers and the Antislavery Movement”

“Tech Chair,” Society for Historians of the Early American Republic, Annual Meeting 2021 online

Panel: “Democratic Intolerance;” Dr. Sophia Rosenfeld, Presiding

Phi Alpha Theta 2018 Regional Conference Participant

Research Presentation: “The Relationship between Dueling and Slavery in the Antebellum U.S. South”

Fellowships

Malcolm and Mildred Freiberg Fellowship, Massachusetts Historical Society
Short-Term Residency, TBD 2023-2024

Robert L. McNeil Jr. Fellowship, Historical Society of Pennsylvania/Library Company of Philadelphia
Short-Term Residency, May 2023

The University of Tennessee

Department of History, Klein Fellowship Fund, 2020—2023

Chancellor’s Fellowship Award, 2019—2023

College of Arts & Sciences Fellowship Award, 2019—2022

Hertog Foundation Summer Fellowship, Washington, D.C., 2018

“American Political Thought;” Dr. Darren Staloff, City College of New York

“Tocqueville’s Democracy in America;” Dr. James Ceasar, University of Virginia

Awards

The University of Tennessee Department of History

2023-2024 Thomas and Kathryn Shelton Award for Best Dissertation Prospectus

2022-2023 Lee Verstandig Award for Nineteenth-Century American History

Professional Affiliations

Society for Historians of the Early American Republic

Society for United States Intellectual History